This week will mark the start of working towards our official sets rather than working on getting back into swimming. The warm up should start to look famaliar and you should feel ready to go by the end of it. The first set today is trying to make those 10 100s from last week seem easier! If you have time, the second set works on some speed. + Try to hold your speed between the 25 s and 50 s!
